Japanese Make Stiff Resistance On Leyte Island

Indication Enemy Will Battle To Last Man In Attempt To Halt Yanks

AMERICAN DRIVE DISRUPTS ENEMY

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 14.—The slashing American drive down the Ormoc corridor on western Leyte which has pierced the enemy's assembly areas, has seriously interfered with Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's frantic attempts to hurl his five infantry divisions in a concentrated counter thrust against the advancing Yanks, Gen. MacArthur revealed today.

No mention was made of the main force being thrown against the Americans, who are irresistibly rolling on towards Ormoc, but the fighting strength of the five Jap divisions, identified as the First, 16th, 26th, 102nd and 30th, is believed to be at least 45,000 men and probably many more.

Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger, hard-bitten, German-born commander of the U. S. Sixth Army, who commands all Yank ground operations on Leyte, predicted a bitter struggle with the Japs before that island is completely under our control.

Japs To Battle To Last
"The enemy is determined to hold Leyte, and he will fight to the last man," he declared.

Meanwhile, his dismounted cavalrymen of the First Division and Doughboys of the 24th, continue to make slow but steady progress down the narrow Ormoc corridor in the face of increasingly sharpened enemy resistance.

Consolidating their hard won positions on Mount Catibara, the Cavalrymen extended their left flank reaching Hill 2926, eight miles south of Carigara, and now are approximately 12 miles north of Ormoc, funnel point of the Jap reinforcements who are swarming onto Leyte to bolster their embattled garrisons.

PA NEWC Observes

The department of highways has opened a reconstructed section of route 18 to traffic. The section, 4.75 miles in length extends from Hermitage on the Sharon-Merger road to a point north of Clarksville, approximately two miles south of Camp Reynolds.

An unusual condition has been noted at the Jameson Memorial hospital this week, not a single birth having been reported from there between Saturday morning and this morning at 8 o'clock. This is the longest period of time without a baby being born at the hospital for the past two or three years.

Numerous reports are being received of near accidents caused by the fact that bicycle riders in some parts of the city have a habit of riding on the wrong side of the street. Bicycle riders are expected to follow the same regulations in traffic as any vehicle. As a matter of their personal safety the riders should observe all traffic regulations.

Himmler Emerges As Master Of Germany

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIGIE
(Written Especially For International News Service)

Heinrich Himmler seems to have emerged as the real master of Germany by his reading of the radio proclamation alleged to have been written by Adolf Hitler in belated commemoration of the historic "beer hall putsch" of November, 1923.

For a long time it has been an opinion widely held in informed circles that Himmler, the strange, deadly, fanatic master of the Gestapo who has boasted that he could cause the death within a single hour of any man, woman or child in Germany, was the power behind the throne in the Reich. Now, when the Nazi state faces apparently certain destruction and a driver is needed to crack the whip, it is Himmler who does the cracking.

Burden of the "Hitler" proclamation, as relayed by Himmler, was finally cast upon Himmler, was (Continued on Page Two)

Five Are Killed As Street Cars Collide In Fog

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—At least four persons were killed and more than 36 others were reported injured today when two street cars collided in fog-shrouded Munhall.

Five police cars and three ambulances rushed the injured to two hospitals.

Both street cars were traveling in the same direction—outbound from Pittsburgh when the one in the rear crashed into the one in front.

Killed In Crash
One of the dead was identified as the motorman of the second trolley, George Grant, 36, of Pittsburgh.

Also killed in the crash were: Margaret Mason, Glenwood; Charles Haggerty, Glenwood; Margaret Latzy, Homerville; Harry Petropoulos, Bradbrook.

Only the motorman, William Stewart, 62, was aboard the first street car. Stewart, uninjured, said he was driving slowly because of a heavy fog.

About 20 of the injured were rushed to Homestead hospital and the remainder were taken to Bradbrook hospital, according to a railway company spokesman.

Believe Hitler Is Supplanted In Nazi Command

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Front line reports indicated strongly today that Hitler no longer is in direct command of the German armies. Two possible reasons are seen for the reichsfuehrer's apparent retirement from his exalted post of military master mind of Nazidom. The first is that he may not have recovered sufficiently from injuries suffered in the July attempt on his life. Or, more probably, the disastrous results of the "Little Corporals" military "intuition" have finally cost him the Napoleonic leadership he assumed following the German army's easy victories over weak and unprepared countries in 1940-41.

Believe Hitler Out
Whatever the actual reason, it is now believed that Hitler relinquished his command of the armies following Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's swift and sweeping victory in France.

For some weeks now it has been possible to discern a different hand in control of the battle along the western frontiers of Germany. During the Normandy campaign Hitler's intuition and stubbornness was evident in German battle tactics. From captured German diaries and documents it is known Hitler insisted on holding every inch of ground to the last, irrespective of whether the positions were tactically untenable.

He pursued the same policy that led to German disaster at Stalingrad. He could not bear the thought of giving up an inch of conquered territory. It was this greed of conquest on Hitler's part which enabled General Eisenhower to wage a decisive battle in the Normandy area of France.

Still Need 685 Blood Donors To Meet Quota Here

Since noon yesterday the number of Red Cross Blood Donor Volunteers has increased by 252. But 685 more volunteers are urgently needed if New Castle is to make its quota in this service of the war effort.

On Monday, the first day of the Blood Donor unit's stay here at First Presbyterian church, 215 pints of blood for processing into blood plasma was obtained. Today's schedule is filled and also Wednesday's, but 685 donors are still needed to complete the remaining six days that the unit will be here. The goal is 1800 pints.

One donor on Monday was a sixth time donor, Miss Helen Wilson. There was also one fifth time donor, Miss Martha Acker.

Mrs. John E. Elliott is Blood Donor Service chairman. Phone 5084 for an appointment.

British Forces Make New Gain On Italian Front

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Nov. 14.—Scoring important gains, British Eighth Army pressed farther northward from the captured town of Foggia today and seized the village of San Tomme after bitter fighting marked a two-mile advance.

The Tommies of the Eighth Army expanded their bridgehead across the Montone river, sending columns of troops across the stream at several places and fighting on into the foothills on the northern bank.

German opposition was strong according to an announcement from the headquarters of Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, commander of Allied forces in the Mediterranean.

Fierce resistance also marked operations along the Eighth Army's left flank where Polish troops kept pace by capturing the town of Bagnolo and eliminating German defenses on the important high ground of Monte Casole.

Headquarters said action elsewhere in Italy consisted of deep patrolling activity both on the American Fifth Army front and in the Eighth Army sector, the patrols probing deep into enemy held territory and often making contact with the Nazi troops.

Russian Forces Make New Inroads In Hungary Drive

Advance More Than 12 Miles In Thrust Westward In Budapest Sector

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Nov. 14.—Russian forces rolled westward to make new inroads in the Nazi Hungarian defense system today, advancing more than 12 miles in a thrust that overran the railway stronghold at Jaszapati and placed the Red Army in position to strike at the vital communications town of Jaszbereny, 35 miles due east of Budapest.

Soviet news dispatches indicated that Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's troops are closing inexorably upon the Hungarian capital despite stiffening enemy resistance.

See Bloody Finale

Observers predicted the final phases of the battle for Budapest will be fierce and bloody, the Germans apparently having determined to make the city the scene of a Stalingrad-like defense.

In pressing the attack north of the towns of Szolnok and Czeged, the Second Ukrainian Army captured at least 11 villages and other towns and brought the southern and eastern spearheads of Malinovsky's columns to within 20 miles of each other.

Capture of Jaszapati, some 10 miles east of Jaszbereny, was regarded as the highlight of eastern front fighting. The town is on a railroad that links the enemy's vital communications lines between Budapest and Miskolc and Budapest and Szolnok.

A brief official communique listed the towns that were taken, stated 24 German tanks were destroyed and said that on other sectors of the eastern front, there was nothing but reconnaissance (Continued on Page Two)

HEAR REPORTS HIMMLER NOW HEAD OF REICH

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 14.—There is a growing conviction in London today that Adolf Hitler is sick, mad or dead, but whatever his predicament he no longer appears in control either of the German armies or Nazi political affairs.

Increasing reports from inside Germany via neutral countries declare Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler now is the de facto head of the Reich.

A Basel report to the London Evening Standard says Himmler now has taken the necessary steps to print an oath of allegiance to himself as commander-in-chief of all Reich defense forces.

There are indications that the Nationalist Socialist regime is engaged in a great internal struggle such as would accompany a transition from Hitler to Himmler," the Manchester Guardian said.

Chinese Advancing Steadily In Burma

MYITKYINA, Burma, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Chinese assault forces which outflanked the strategic Jap-held base of Bhamo, gateway to central Burma, pressed forward today against their objective from the east and struck to within two miles of the center of the town.

Advanced elements already were hearing the enemy-held airstrip.

Other Chinese forces converged on Bhamo from a point eight miles southeast of the town and were within one mile of the main escape road of the Japanese.

Due west of Bhamo the Chinese already were in control of Shwago. The Chinese advanced eight miles on a 20-mile front south of the Irrawaddy river.

Third Army Is Driving Steadily Closer To Metz

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY, France, Nov. 14.—Infantry of the American Third Army developing a two-pronged attack against Metz punched forward today to within three and one-half miles of the city.

The Yanks commanded by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., gained on the city through the woods east of Fleury and due south of the city. They captured a fourth fort and the town of Orny.

Although beyond Chateau Salins and across the Nied river the front is quivering with action, there is a quickening pulse south of Metz in the wake of the fall of the three Verny forts, giving the Yanks their first wedge into the Metz ring of fortifications.

Backdoor To Metz

Chateau Salins, Delme, Nomeny and the Nied river are the "backdoor to Metz" and the outer suburbs. This correspondent could drive over the broad highway from Chateau Salins to Metz at normal speed in half an hour. Right now the Americans could turn these Long Tons west and slightly north at Bazoucourt on the Nied and easily shell the heart of Metz.

To remaining local inhabitants Metz is "the city," like Mecca to the Mohammedans, to them, Saarbrücken is a stop-over or transfer point for trains going or coming (Continued on Page Two)

Five billion dollars is expected to come from the pockets of individual bond buyers during the campaign period from Nov. 20 to Dec. 16.

So important are sales to individuals, that up to Dec. 1, only these subscriptions will be reported by the treasury department, although other sales will be made.

In the last 16 days of the drive, energy will be concentrated on bringing other non-banking sales past the nine billion dollar mark which has been set.

Third Army Drives To Within 3 1/2 Miles Of City In New Gains

COUNTER ATTACKS BY GERMANS FAIL

By THURSTON MACAULEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, Nov. 14.—Another Fortress group at Yser, four miles south of Metz, was captured by the United States Third Army today in a mounting sweep that carried American forces to within 3 1/2 miles of the Moselle river city guarding the Saar valley.

The Yser forts were taken by a Fifth Infantry Division combat team which advanced about a mile from Verny and past the town of Orny.

This group included open country emplacements and pill-boxes. The new success at Yser brought to five the number of Metz fortifications already overrun by the Americans.

Counter-Attacks Repulsed
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced the repulse of nine German counter-attacks yesterday, as well as a presumably successful American assault against Chateau St. Germain, four miles west of Metz over hilly and rough country.

The German counter-thrusts, Gen. Eisenhower said, were attempted against the American Sixth armored and Fifth Infantry divisions in the vicinity of a railway line southeast of Metz at Sandoy-Sur-Nied.

Strong counterattacks also were made east and northeast of Chateau (Continued on Page Two)

For the meat he gets is a little at best, but the exercise he claims is more than the equal of rabbit meat and that's a part of the game. So I won't suggest that he visit a shop for the meat while he has a gun, it's the sport that counts, or at least he said, the weather is forty-one.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Plans for liquidating the office of coordinator of inter-American affairs, which was set up in 1943 as a war-time agency, were disclosed today by Nelson A. Rockefeller, head of that agency.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(INS)—British under-secretary for dominions, Paul Emery, Evans, warned Eire today that it would be "detrimantal to the interests of the Irish people" to grant asylum to war criminals.

Salms and in the vicinity of the forest of Brice de Koecking, where the Germans regained most of their lost ground and control of most of the forest.

Other enemy assaults were made in the vicinity of Koenigsmaier. The American bridgehead at Koenigsmaier is being expanded, with an advance of from one to two miles south southeast of the town further enhancing present positions east of the Moselle.

South of Thionville, American positions were expanded and the sector extended a mile to the east.

Troops of the Sixth armored division advanced a mile from Remilly to the vicinity of Vitecourt to the northeast. The 80th Infantry pushed ahead a mile from Hery along a branch of the Metz-Saarbourg railway to Arrance, south of the forest of Remilly.

An additional 750 prisoners were taken yesterday.

The Americans topped off Orny, bringing to four the total of Nazi-held forts on the immediate approaches to Metz to be seized within two days.

Fifth Fort Taken

A fifth fort, that at Thionville, almost a score of miles above Metz, also was in American hands.

The troops of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., in the newest of the "lightning" assaults, pushed forward from the east of Fleury and toward Metz from due south of the city.

The town of Orny was occupied at the same time the fort of the same name was captured.

The deep inroads against the Citadel of Metz were made as a part of a giant pincer drive were closed tighter around the city amid indications of Nazi withdrawals from some sectors of the Metz front.

Extend Offensive

American and French armies to the south of the blazing Metz area simultaneously extended the offensive front by punching out substantial gains east of Lunerville, south-east of Baccarat and below Bruyere.

The American Seventh Army commanded by Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch went over to the attack on a 10-mile front.

"The Times of London predicted that the attack in the Metz area was a forerunner of a drive on a far greater scale to deliver a knockout blow to Germany this winter."

The Nazis asserted through the DNB propaganda agency that Metz itself will be defended "frantically."

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army advanced both north and south of Metz where a line of encirclement has been thrown two-thirds around the city.

The Yanks cut the important Metz-Saarbourg railway and headquarters said that armored forces were astride the rail line in the vicinity of Hery and Daoudrecourt.

TREGASKIS TELLS OF ROBOT V-2 IN ACTION AND PROBABLE EFFECT

the morale of some of the Germans. They are led to believe that when the secret weapons arrive, and bolster their strength so that they can drive us back, then they will be acclaimed as the saviors and heroes of Germany, who preserved the fatherland from what Modl called "The Negro barbarities of Americans."

Of course, to us the really important thing about the Germans' secret weapons, the new developments of the German scientific brains which are supposed to win the war, is the question of inferior results.

Inferior Results

Just how effective, just how plentiful, can such weapons be? As far as military effectiveness is concerned, it's well known that the V-weapons have produced inferior results.

The V-1, pilotless plane for flying bomb, has had a minimum of military effect, because of its lack of accuracy.

Occasionally a flying bomb has struck a military objective, but when that happens, it is an accident. Because they can't be aimed with anything like the precision of a shell or ordinary bomb, they have often landed far from their targets.

From a cold-blooded military point of view—however grievous the injury inflicted on the civilian population—the flying bomb has been a failure.

This Correspondent was in London during the height of the buzz bomb season this year, and can vouch for the fact that, while many people were maimed and killed, the bombs have been of the slightest military effect.

I have also seen some of the new V-2s, the 12-ton rockets which climb to a height of 60 miles in the stratosphere, then come straight down, accelerating until they reach a speed faster than sound—something more than 750 miles an hour.

Flying Frankfurters

These great flying frankfurters which look like fat telephone poles with stubbing wings, are truly something out of a Flash Gordon comic strip. They remind one of a pseudo-scientific movie or, he used Frankenstein's gaudy with flashing neon tubing.

They have so far proved much more formidable in appearance than in effect.

The V-2 still is in the experimental stage, the effect of the explosion is variable, and the degree of inaccuracy is far greater than the V-1. These flying frankfurters, about 40 feet long and six or seven feet in diameter, can fly for hundreds of miles, but to achieve this they must be sent to a great height that they cannot be aimed very well.

Of course, the farther they must fly, the larger percentage of their explosive content must be used for propelling charge, the smaller part used for destruction when the projectile lands.

Less Destructive

In nearly every case the destructive effect of these new weapons which are supposed to be more deadly than the V-1 has proved to be less than that of the first weapon of vengeance.

Lake the other secret weapons so far produced by the Germans in this war—like the one-man submarine, the radio-controlled tank and bomb—the V-1 and V-2 have proved to be of more psychological than practical value.

One is always reminded of the Chrysler airflow car which was experimental when it was produced in 1934. The sleek lines of this auto seemed out of place amongst the straight-up-and-down competitors of its time. The public didn't buy the car because it was too radical; yet it looks almost exactly like the smooth-bodied streamliners which became standard in 1942.

So it is with the V-1 and V-2, when some of the bugs are ironed out, they may prove to be the standard weapons of the future.

Fortunately, it doesn't seem likely that the Germans will have time to perfect these weapons, or to get them into mass production.

But there is no denying that these first V-weapons, and the promise of others to come, have been a psychological stimulus to the German soldiers in the battle lines, and a buttress to German civilian morale.

The V-weapons must be taken into account if only for their psychological effect on the German people in any estimate of the duration of the war.

WHEN IN DOUBT

When unexpected conditions arise, which makes it necessary to call the services of a funeral director, one never takes any chances, when calling an old, established firm. A firm who has been at the work for nearly half a century, can always be depended upon.

Why risk as serious matter as the preparation and burial of your loved ones, to one with less experience, when the services and equipment of the one where there is no doubt connected, can be had at as low a price as any other.

What science can do to bless you with a younger face

Think of the added beauty a more youthful face and throat can give! Then harken to this: Science . . . in the guise of ENDOCREME . . . can, for most women, contribute to this desirable result in a way formerly thought impossible. Many thousands are now finding that ENDOCREME actually helps to improve the skin itself, not just its transient, superficial "look." This is because ENDOCREME, alone, possesses ACTIVOL™. The ACTIVOL™ in ENDOCREME . . . a laboratory counterpart of a natural, skin-vitalizing substance . . . is absorbed beneath the skin's surface to build cells, firm tissues. It thus helps the skin to become fresher, smoother, more alluringly "alive."

What bigger value can any woman between 22 and 70 ask for her cosmetic dollars. The great majority get big improvement in only 30 days.

SISTERHOOD HAS TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Successful in every way was the tenth anniversary dinner program of the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood, held at Tifereth Israel synagogue Sunday evening, with one of the largest crowds in attendance.

The dinner-program got underway promptly at 6 o'clock, with the singing of "America." Rabbi Hyman Krash opened with the invocation, "Peace and Harmony."

Guests numbered 120 at the beautifully arranged table, with green ferns and tall white lighted tapers adding to the impressiveness of the occasion. Placards designed by Edward Haines flanked the tables, and the Zionist and American flags were prominently displayed. Rabbi Morris Caplan of Pittsburgh gave the prayer of thanks following the dinner.

President Mrs. Perry Frank gave the welcome, and Mrs. Sam Schwartz later was the toastmistress. Brief comments were heard from past presidents: Mrs. Maurice Slavovsk, Mrs. Harry Pitof, Mrs. Julius Cobb, Mrs. Sam Levine.

Mrs. Gus Slavovsk, general chairman, was presented with a corsage, as were the past presidents and president.

A delightful program was presented during the evening with Cantor Ernest Gottesman, Youngstown, O., of the Anshe Emeth Temple, singing "The Psalm," "My Zaidies Cholim," and "The Lord Is With Us." He was accompanied by his wife.

Maurice Samuels, past president of the synagogue who has been quite active in the synagogue for the past 10 years, spoke giving high praise of the achievements of the Sisterhood. History of the Sisterhood was given by the honorary president, Mrs. Maurice Slavovsk, and she gave highlights of the work of past officers during the past 10 years. Sam Schwartz, president of the synagogue, extended greetings. A memorial was held for all the deceased members.

Rabbi Morris Caplan, Pittsburgh, brother-in-law of Rabbi H. Krash, gave an inspiring talk, which was well-received. He emphasized the advancement of cultural program within the ranks of the Sisterhood.

Rabbi Krash closed the program with benediction. Representing the men's club was Edward Haines.

Mrs. Slavovsk, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Irvin Smith, co-chairman. Mrs. M. Waldman, reservation.

Misrepresentation Instances Cited

Unauthorized Persons Pose As Social Security Employees,
Manager Warns

Spurred by complaints that unauthorized persons have represented themselves as employees of the Social Security board in asking for information from citizens, Edward J. Sinder, manager of the New Castle field office of the board, today pointed out that all Social Security board employees carry official identification cards and will be glad to show them upon request.

Mr. Sinder also asked that any instances of misrepresentation be reported to the office, 306 Ne-shannock avenue. As a result of one of the most recent complaints, he said, a federal grand jury in New York indicted a woman investigator for a bus company on a charge of impersonating a Social Security board employee while seeking information concerning medical treatment and other expenses incurred by the person upon whom she called. She pleaded guilty.

"Sometimes Social Security board employees find it necessary to make official calls upon people in their homes, but these calls relate only to social security business," Mr. Sinder said. "Our trustees and individuals are confidential and we want to help prevent impostors from obtaining personal information by using the Social Security board's name. Consequently, any Social Security board representative will be glad to show credentials whenever asked to do so. We will welcome reports of instances where a person claims to be a board representative and refuses to show an identification card."

FIRE

It seems that all children like to play with fire. It is a dangerous thing to play with. Many children are burned. Since children have such strong urge to experiment with fire what should be done about it?

Perhaps the best plan is to teach them how to start a fire and how to take proper care of it.

The Boy Scouts and other organizations do good work along this line. It is a good thing to know how to start a fire.

It is perhaps better to know how to put out a fire than to know how to start one.

Everyone should know how to put out a fire either in the field or in the house.

We have a fine fire department. The firemen would not have much to do if everyone knew how to take proper precautions about fire.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

halted when business confidence was shaken by the impending election of the New Deal; that with the election, the whole country further hesitated, awaiting the new policies; that rumors quickly spread that Mr. Roosevelt would devalue the currency; that, in consequence, people tried to get their money out of the banks and that speculators tried to ship it out of the country; that Mr. Roosevelt refused to cooperate in other directions with Mr. Hoover; that the closing of the banks was not from fear of a retiring administration and could have been averted had Mr. Roosevelt been willing to cooperate. Those are the facts. After the banks were reopened, it was found that 98 per cent of their deposits were good.

FURTHER, the historical truth is that the rest of the world, not having a "New Deal," went straight out of the depression and recovered its unemployment by 1934 or 1935; that unemployment here in the United States continued on a large scale for six years and that Governor

Dewey told the exact truth when he said it took a war to get us out of it. The whole story of the 1930-32 depression as painted by the New Deal publicity agencies beginning in 1932 and continuing straight through the last campaign is about as big and complete a falsification as has been known in American politics. It shows what can be done by large-scale, skillful and unscrupulous publicity. It is the classic example of what can be done by distortion and suppression of facts. It probably has deceived more people than any other piece of political fiction in fifty years.

ticing with easier lessons than those of his grade at school.

To quote from a letter: "My son is close to nine years old. Here is the kind of report I have received from all his teachers since first grade: 'His health habits have been good. He does not adjust to a group easily or cooperate well in our activities. He does almost no work at all, constantly annoys the other children and hands in extremely untidy papers. His school work is not nearly up to grade standard. Therefore, I will have to recommend that he be retained in the third grade.'"

No Interest
"He is not a stupid child and could do the work if he wanted to but does not seem to have any interest in school at all. First we tried spanking him, that did no good at all. So we tried taking away all his privileges such as movies, ice cream, candy, etc., and keeping him in the house after school hours. I have also tried talking to him seriously and trying to make him understand the value of a good education—all to no avail. I would sincerely appreciate any advice you can give me."

The parents were urged to abandon punishment for the child's lag at school, to have him studied by a psychologist (say at their nearest college or university) and to write enclosing proper postage for my several home helps and my bulletin, "Parents and the Child's Homework", to 233 East 43rd street, New York City.

Scotland Yard's Ace Sleuth Probes Murder Of Girl

By JOSEPH THOMAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Scotland Yard's ace sleuth today sought to solve the mystery death of attractive Winnie Evans, a London WAAP, whose outraged body was discovered a few hours after she had attended a dance at an American army camp.

Chief Inspector Jack Grenno, who in many ways is the personification of the mythical Sherlock Holmes, was called in to investigate the case after it had been described as "the clueless crime."

Miss Evans, who was known to her friends as "Winnie of the blameless life," met death in the early hours of last Thursday. Her battered remains were found in a ditch near Beccles in Suffolk.

Grenno's entry into the baffling case immediately attracted nationwide interest. He is known through Britain as having never failed to solve a wartime murder case.

The 27-year-old WAAP apparently was criminally attacked before she met death. Her clothes had been torn and the body subjected to diabolical physical ill-treatment.

A coroner's inquest concluded that her death was due to suffocation primarily, but Coroner L. H. Vulliamy told the investigating jury that she had met her fate under "circumstances which are highly suspicious."

City firemen answered several fire calls over night, none for any serious fires however. Fire Chief James E. Thomas reported today.

At 1:37 p.m., Monday afternoon, they were called to the Railway Express property on West Washington street, where gasoline had been set afire by the driver of one of the trucks, while the tank was being filled with gasoline. Damage of around $10 resulted.

Later in the afternoon, the automatic alarm at the Johnson Bronze was touched off, while electricians were testing the system. Firemen responded to the call from Box 44.

At 7:30 o'clock this morning, they were summoned to the home of Tom Naples, of 110 Wabash avenue, where it was found that paint was burning off the heater pipe from the furnace.

Palazzo Venezia Scene Of Another Sort Of Exhibit

Mussolini's 'Hang-Out' Now Houses
Art Collection: Visitors Stroll
Through At Will

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
ROME, Nov. 14.—The Palazzo Venezia, where Mussolini had his office and where he perpetrated his balcony scenes, is an art exhibit today.

For a small stipend you can pass the Italian police on guard at the building, saunter into this historic spot and see an exhibition of masterpieces of European painting. The allied military government organized the exhibition at Palazzo Venezia in response to many requests of allied troops to visit museums in Rome, which of necessity are closed.

At Palazzo Venezia are assembled many of the best known and celebrated paintings of the greatest period of Italian art—the 15th to 17th centuries.

Col. Charles Poletti, commissioner of region IV, allied military government, said it is intended that the proceeds of the exhibition, after expenses have been met, will form a fund to be used in furthering the restoration of national monuments of Italy damaged by the war.

Soldiers and civilians visiting Palazzo Venezia roam through the high-ceilinged rooms gazing at the masterpieces.

One room of special interest is the one in which Mussolini had his desk. It is a huge room, with real marble flooring and phony painted "marble" pillars running up to the ceiling. Away in a corner Mussolini had his desk. It is so situated that the visitor calling on Mussolini when he was dictator of Italy had to make a long walk to the desk and Il Duce had the eye on him all the way, thus putting the visitor at a disadvantage.

Nearby is the huge banquet room where Mussolini used to stage elaborate dinners. As many as 5,000 persons came and went on occasions when Il Duce threw one of his banquets.

You can walk out onto the terrace and look down into a large garden filled with palm trees and a fountain in the center. Semi-circular driveways veer around the foundation.

The famous balcony where Mussolini used to make his speeches in the style of Jack Oakie imitated so well in the movies is still there—but it looks rather forlorn. Visitors to the exhibition can go to within a few feet of the balcony but cannot walk out on it as the entrance door is locked.

Times have changed since Mussolini put on his acts at Palazzo Venezia.

CONGRESS GOES BACK TO WORK

Reconvene 78th Session With Turbulent Issues Now Facing Legislators

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The 78th Congress reconvenes today facing demands for legislative action which may make it a turbulent session both in the Senate and House.

The official program of Democratic leaders remained to be framed, however, and they are expected to seek a conference with President Roosevelt before reaching their decision.

Major problems which may be raised include:

1. Re-enactment of the second War Powers Act, which gave Mr. Roosevelt vast authority in conducting the war.

2. Drive to cancel a scheduled automatic increase of one and a half billion dollars in social security payroll taxes on January 1.

3. Effort to enact flood control and rivers and harbors programs totalling one and a half billion dollars with proposals to expand them.

4. Move to enact Murray-Kilgore bill, defeated last summer, providing liberal unemployment benefits for war workers losing jobs in conversion.

5. Demands for immediate establishment of permanent fair employment practices committee.

6. Whether extension of statute of limitations for prosecution of anyone delinquent in the Pearl Harbor tragedy shall be continued beyond December 7.

Seek Revision Of Payroll Tax Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The Social Security Board agreed today to seek revision of the old-age payroll tax system.

The promise was given by Chairman A. J. Altmyer and other board members to Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) Mich., who is seeking cancellation of a scheduled one and a half billion dollar increase in the old age payroll taxes on January 1.

While board members said they would oppose the Vandenberg "freeze" proposal, they agreed with him that the rule under which the old age payroll taxes are increased from time to time should be reconsidered by Congress.

OCD NOTES

Frank T. Sargent, co-ordinator OCD, has issued a bulletin in which he reminds civilian defense workers that while practice blackouts have been discontinued "we must be prepared in case of an actual black-out to do the things we have been taught." He said "we have been instructed to set up an emergency group. This will be done as soon as final instructions arrive." He also urged that all members help to stimulate the war bond efforts.

He reported there will be a meeting in the city building tonight. The session will be called at 7:45 p. m. It will not be lengthy therefore several members from each post are asked to attend.

To keep skin soft try removing makeup with almond oil, then cleansing face with a mild soap containing lanolin.

Worn with pride by "UNITED" Americans

YOU see 'em every day—men and women with UNITED badges pinned to their hats or blouses . . . hurrying to work . . . surging through closely guarded plant gates . . . crowding restaurants at lunch hour . . . packing trolleys and buses in the evening.

Chances are they never think of the badge they wear in terms of personal vanity. And we like 'em better because they don't! But they have a perfect right to be proud of it.

For the sweat and toil and skill and loyalty of the men and women who wear that badge are adding a full and constantly increasing measure to the staggering volume of equipment, machines and supplies produced for our armed forces by soldiers of the production front, without which there could be no final day of victory.

That badge stands for vital ordnance shipped "on time;" for steel processing machinery—urgently needed for the production of war supplies—rushed to completion ahead of schedules; for bond quotas oversubscribed; for instant and generous response to appeals of the Red Cross and National War Fund; for wholehearted cooperation in scrap drives and other conservation measures.

Unusual? Of course not!

It's simply the American way of doing things—the spirit that has made this country great—the spontaneous reaction of free men and women to the call of service.

United Americans!

You bet they are!

That's what they're proud of most of all!

JOHNSTOWN—One hundred tons of maps were used by the Allies in planning the invasion of Africa and 500 tons before the Jerries were driven out, stated Dr. J. Warren Nyström, assistant geography professor at the University of Pittsburgh. He deplored America's general lack of geographical knowledge, claiming the nation had only 500 trained geographers.

The "walkie-talkie" portable radio telephone developed during the war will provide constant communication after the war. For instance, you may call your husband while he's driving home from work and tell him to stop at the grocery store.

BOARD AT WORK

The official recount board is into the tallying of the returns of November 7, but by the appearance of it thus far the board isn't going to finish by November 22, the day to count the military ballots. Already errors have been found in nine precincts and the ballot boxes will be opened. The errors are merely mistakes and there is no suspicion of intentional fraud. The board wants to make a correct return and all errors will be corrected. Many of the mistakes seem to have been made by board members who were tired after their long vigil and wrote returns in the wrong places, carried totals out differently than the tally shows but none of them call for more than rectification by the board.

New Trade Setup For World Is Seen After War Demand

RYE, N.Y., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Businessmen from 52 allied and neutral nations, delegates to the International Business Conference, were practically unanimous today in their belief that post-war international trade must be set up on a different and better basis than existed before the war.

In his opening speech to the committee on commercial policy of nations, one of eight divisions into which the conference is split, Henry P. Grady, chairman of the American President Lines of San Francisco, spoke for the whole United States delegation as he condemned bilateralism and urged what he termed "the multi-lateral system of trade."

Practically every delegation in its first chance to express its views on international trade which is felt to be unsuccessful in previous peace-time arrangements.

India has been most vocal of the delegations in demanding for herself a more liberal treatment from the British government and from other countries which she feels have discriminated against her financially and personally.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The spectacular career of Robert G. Kaslow, 21, of Johnson City, N.Y., who broke from the guardhouse at Craig Field, Ala., and used a convenient plane for his getaway, was in eclipse today.

The dashing former second lieutenant, already under sentence of 30 years in a federal penitentiary on charges including forgery and attempted murder, was captured late yesterday, looking happily in a New Orleans cocktail lounge in company with an attractive 25-year-old girl.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Actress Ethel Barrymore responded today to penicillin treatments in New York hospital where she is suffering from influenza.

Retailers Given Suggestions On Clerk's Attitude

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Retail grocers were warned today to save their customers for postwar days.

Condemning wartime discourtesy on the part of sales clerks, Elmer Wheeler, authority on salesmanship, told 2000 Philadelphia retail grocers that the buyer will have the upper hand soon so a reconversion of sales talks is in order.

"When a customer comes in and says he would like a pack of cigarettes, don't snap, 'So would I,'" Wheeler warned. "Instead, let him down gently—and save yourself a customer for postwar days."

Some grocers, he pointed out, yell: "Hey Joe—come and take a look at this guy who wants a pound of butter. He doesn't know there's a war on."

He said many customers keep a "black book" of such insults and resolve not to trade with that merchant after the war.

His parting remark to the grocers was "don't ration courtesy, patience or politeness."

Clothing Asked For Russian Aid

Asking aid for Russian civilians, the American Russian Citizens club of 1217 Moravia street asked for clothing of all kinds to be given. The clothing will be forwarded to the national headquarters of the association and from there it will go to Russia to help keep women and children warm during the bitter winter ahead.

The winters are severe in Russia, especially in the Siberian region and on the Russian steppes. Even in such cities as Moscow and Leningrad the winters are far more severe than they are in the United States, and there is a shortage of winter clothing due to the war.

Two members of the American Russian Citizens club have taken it upon themselves to gather the clothing here, and all citizens who have warm clothing they can spare are asked to take it to the club headquarters at 1217 Moravia street.

You own the world's finest transportation system

THE successful performance of American railroads, speeding men, equipment and supplies for a Nation at war, proves that you have the world's finest transportation system.

You, the American public, own these railroads. You may not be one of the hundreds of thousands of railroad stockholders, but if you have money in the bank or insurance, the railroads are partly yours. For most banks and insurance companies are heavy investors in the solid securities railroads offer. So, part of your funds are safely reinvested in the world's finest transportation system.

But, you have more than a financial interest in the railroads. Most of your household articles, the materials of which your home is built, much of your food, come to you by rail. If you work in a factory or office, the chances are that your products are distributed by rail, so they can be sold to pay your salary.

Your interest in the railroads is in every way a great one. And the Erie and other American Railroads will continue to justify your confidence in them.

Postwar Military Training Action Delay Indicated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(INS)—

Widespread opposition was believed today to have prompted Congressional leaders to postpone action on postwar universal military training until next year.

Both the War department and the House Military Affairs committee have received a flood of letters opposing such a program. They came largely from churches, educators and pacifist organizations.

As a result, it was reported that the War department was inclined not to press the matter at the present session, which expires January 3, but to attempt to educate the public further on the subject with the hope that the necessary legislation can be enacted by the 79th Congress which convenes next year.

Survey Checks Prices Of Thanksgiving Food

Varying its usual routine check-ups on retail food prices, the Price Panel Board is now making a survey of only the foods which are normally used for Thanksgiving dinners in accordance with an order from the Office of Price Administration.

Chicken and turkey, cranberries, squashes, mince meat and canned pumpkin will all be on the list, along with some other fruits and vegetables. The purpose, as any housewife may have guessed, is to keep prices on those items from soaring at a time when most people might grumble but would pay in order to have a traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

how much WHITE LIGHT

in a pound of BLACK COAL?

THE lamp has a 100-watt bulb in it and the lump of coal weighs one pound.

Pulverized and blown into the big boiler of a modern power-plant, a pound of coal* provides enough steam to generate one kilowatt-hour of electricity.

That much electricity, in turn, will light the lamp for ten hours—long enough to read this newspaper and a couple of novels. Or it will run a small radio for 25 hours, a food mixer for 13 hours, a washer for almost 7.

"So what?" you say. The point is this, 25 years ago, it took about three times as much coal to produce a kilowatt-hour of electricity as it does today!

The efficiency which gets several times as much white light from black coal has benefited YOU in many ways.

It has made your electric service better and cheaper year by year. It has met tremendous wartime demands for electric power, without delay, shortages or rationing. It has held the price of electricity at an all-time low, while other costs went up.

These results come from the sound business management of the nation's light and power companies—and from the hard work of men and women who know their business. The same companies are preparing for even greater accomplishments tomorrow.

*Some plants use less than 1 pound, some more, because of differences in coal and equipment. The nationwide average is 1.3 pounds per kilowatt-hour.

Bessemer High To Close 1944 Football Season At Mars Thursday Night

BESSEMER, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Bessemer high school football team has resumed training for the final game of the 1944 season this coming Thursday night at Mars, Pa. Coach Joe Weresuk is anxious to end the season with a victory.

Bessemer is tackling one of the finest Class B teams in this section of the state. In Smutney, the Mars team has a fullback who is one of the leading scorers in the state.

Bessemer Seeks Upset
Determined to end the season with a stunning upset of the Mars Planets, Bessemer will give its all this week and will have its strongest possible lineup on the field.

The kickoff at Mars will occur at 8 o'clock, it was announced today by Chandler B. McMillin, principal of Bessemer High school. Tri-county championship hopes of Mars can be wrecked should Bessemer take this one. A Mars defeat will place the Planets in a tie with Zelenople for the newly created Tri-County championship.

Ellwood To Play Donora Saturday For Championship

W. P. I. A. L. Sets Game For 2:30 Saturday At Pitt Stadium, Pittsburgh

PERFECT RECORDS TO GO ON LINE

(Special To The News)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—Ellwood City High school Wolverine football team, winners of nine straight games the past season, will battle the powerful Donora High Dragons Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Pitt stadium. It was decided by the W.P.I.A.L. football committee at a meeting Monday night at the Fort Pitt Hotel.

The Class AA championship will be at stake as these two undefeated and untied schoolboy eleven tangle. This is the first time in 19 years that Ellwood City has been in the Class AA playoffs. Donora has not been in the title playoff for 14 years. Both teams will make the most of their opportunities after such a long wait.

Coaches Get Busy
Coaches Howard Gills and Ted Wallace of the Ellwood City team will get the boys down to the serious training business today. There is not much time left to get ready for this important classic.

Coach Jimmy Russell with his T-formation, the big thing in the Donora attack this year, will also be busy the rest of the week getting his team in shape for the meeting of the Dragon and Wolverine.

Two Fine Teams
Both Ellwood and Donora have piled through a lot of tough opposition this season and are rightly at the moment co-champions, a matter that will be decided late Saturday afternoon in the confines of the spacious Pitt stadium.

From all indications the Pitt stadium will see a great crowd on hand for the game. Both towns—Donora and Ellwood City—after waiting years and years, 19 and 14 to be exact, will do a large amount of howling.

Pirates Purchase Farm In Tennessee

Greenville Club Of Class D League Will Be Operated By Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Another minor league baseball club today was added to the Pittsburgh Baseball company's chain with the announcement by Pirate officials that the Greenville, Tenn., team of the class D Appalachian league had been purchased.

Three other National league clubs have affiliates in the Appalachian loop, to be increased in 1945 from four to six teams. The Giants have an agreement with Bristol, Va., the Cardinals with Johnson City, Tenn., and the Cubs with Erwin, Tenn. Kingsport, Tenn., and Greenville make up the fourth and fifth teams. Greenville having been added only recently. League officials soon will announce the sixth club.

The Greenville purchase, arranged by Pirate Field Director Bob Rice, gives Pittsburgh two class D clubs, the other being Hornell, in the Pony league.

New Class To Shoot Revolvers Tonight

Sportsman's Revolver club will meet at eight o'clock tonight in the Cathedral. A new basic firearms school will be started but there are yet places for new members. Information may be obtained from Charles Brunton or Chuck Schreinsberg. The shoot last week resulted as follows: McKee, 90; Schweinsberg, 89; Giordano, 89; Carban, 81, and Hoffmann, 81.

Fred France, freshman tackle at Penn State, pulled his weight down to 230 from 310 during the current football season.

JOYCE WINNER OVER WILLIAMS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Willie Joyce, clever Gary, Ind., lightweight, was in line today for a January championship match with Juan Zurita, NBA king, after earning a split decision over the favored Ike Williams, Trenton Triphammer, in the Arena's 10-round windup last night.

Joyce was groggy at the finish but through wise maneuvering managed to minimize the effect of the fierce blows of his opponent and register sharp counter punches by his ring-wise tactics.

A crowd of 8926 fans who paid $25.756 was overwhelmingly in agreement with the decision of Referee Charley Daggett and Judge Lou Tress. Judge Harry Lasky favored Williams.

Bessemer will open on November 28 at home by tangle with the Alumni team, and close on February 20 with a Section 21 game at Mt. Jackson.

Lost Star Performers
The Bessemer team will start training after the grid game at Mars on Thursday night, with the first floor rehearsal set for next Monday, by Coach Joe Weresuk. Four star performers will be missing this season—Johnson at center, Kresnevich and Mehoeic at the forwards, and Wilbur Miller, a guard.

The regular letterman left is Wilbur Anderson, a guard last year. Besides Anderson, there will be Marvin Donaldson and Wilbur Nelson, a couple of first string reserves last year. Donaldson was a sub all of last year for Mehoeic and Nelson a sub for Miller.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—A five-bout boxing card featuring a 10-round battle between Joe Baksi, a leading heavyweight contender, and Corp. Buddy Knox today was on schedule at the Duquesne Gardens for November 27.

Baksi, rated by the National Boxing Association as the No. 1 contender for the heavyweight title, attracted attention last winter when he defeated Tami Mauriello in Madison Square Garden.

Knox is a ring veteran of several years' experience, having met such battles as Conn. Bettina, Nova and Mauriello.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

TREACHEROUS SHOTGUNS

Turn the pages of any outdoor magazine during hunting season and chances are 10 to 1 that somewhere you'll find a warning against the use of high-pressure ammunition in Damascus barrels.

On the cover of a box of 12 gauge long-range shells which I have before me is printed the reminder, "Do not use these shells in guns having Damascus or other twist steel barrels." Yet thousands of such guns are being fired and thousands more are displayed for sale in sporting goods stores and pawn shops.

Wouldn't Sell It
A reputable dealer wouldn't sell such a gun to an inexperienced hunter without telling him of its dangerous potentialities, but not all dealers are reputable and many hunters, particularly in this year of firearms shortages, go merrily on their way with a "fine old gun" boasting twist tubes.

Some of them wind up in a hospital, but others continue to fire Western X, Kleanburn Nitro Express, Winchester Super Speed and similar ammunition in such old guns with impunity.

If every Damascus barrel blew up when high-speed shells were first fired through it the practice would soon be discontinued, but the trouble is they don't all blow up and the fact that they may do so any time a trigger is pulled is ignored by the owner who refuses to heed warnings.

Won't Listen
Just the other night a duck hunter rather noted in these parts as a crack shot was showing me the stock of his favorite shotgun. It was obviously an old-timer through a hammerless. The wood was aged, Cinnamon stained, the steel parts finely engraved. The safety, however, was broken.

The duck hunter wanted to know whether it could be repaired. I told him I thought any competent gunsmith could fix it for him. For some reason he did not exhibit the barrels, but finally remarked that I guess they are Damascus steel. But I've fired this gun for years with high-pressure ammunition and nothing's happened to me yet.

Fires Until Hurt
In spite of my warnings and his previous knowledge that there's a good chance of those tubes giving out one of these days when he lets go a heavy charge at a duck or pheasant, he'll probably keep right on firing that old heirloom until he's maimed or killed, or until the shotgun falls apart like the one boss shay.

"That gun cost $30 when it was new; it must be a good one," is another argument against discarding an arm fitted with twist barrels. But it isn't the cost, it's the method of barrel construction that determines whether or not the steel will stand the strain. Damascus and other twist barrels are usually safe with black powder loads of reasonable authority, or with semi-smokeless loads of analogous strength. Personally, I wouldn't fool with one of all with any sort of ammunition. Better be safe than too far out of this world to be sorry!

Urge Transfer Of Service Classic

Believe Staging Of Army-Navy Game Will Help War Bond Sales

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. Members of the House and Senate planned today to ask congressional leaders to directly appeal to President Roosevelt to transfer the Army-Navy football game from Annapolis to a big city stadium. Congressional interest in the matter was stirred up when the Treasury requested that the game be shifted to either Philadelphia or New York as an aid to the impending Sixth War Bond Drive and the White House indicated there would be no change made.

Appeal to Roosevelt
Rep. Carter Manasco (D. Ala.) said he would ask Speaker Rayburn and House Majority Leader McCormack to lead a House group in a final appeal to the President for a change, upon their return to the capital today.

At the same time, House Minority Leader Martin said he thought it was "foolish" to limit attendance at the game to residents of the Annapolis area because of "alleged transportation difficulties."

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D. Colo.) a ranking member of the Senate military affairs committee, also declared he was wholeheartedly in favor of a transfer and added he was most willing to accompany any other congressman on a visit to the White House.

The Army-Navy contest, which now stacks up as the outstanding college game of the year, has been set for December 2 at the Naval Academy's stadium in Annapolis, Md., which seats only about 15,000. There has been a widespread drive to have the game transferred, but it has been unsuccessful.

Attitude Defined
The White House attitude appeared to still be unfavorable when Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early told reporters, "I think that for the duration the President will keep the game on a community-limited basis."

Early's statement was taken as definite indication that the President most likely would not change the wartime practice of holding the annual service game either at Annapolis or West Point and limiting attendance to those living within a 10-mile radius.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Army football team which basked in the glory of a 59 to 0 victory over Navy last Saturday night, will be looking for a wide spread belief in their prowess by doing a large share of the work when Notre Dame was taken apart on Saturday. They are gens who would be standouts in any year, not only these times when so often the opposition is far below standard.

And their biggest chance is yet to come on Dec. 2. Both teams have several candidates for places on the mythical All-Super eleven, not the least of which are Doc Blanchard, the place Max Minor and Glenn Davis, all of Army. They substantiated a widespread belief in their prowess by doing a large share of the work when Notre Dame was taken apart on Saturday. They are gens who would be standouts in any year, not only these times when so often the opposition is far below standard.

Roxborough, Watson Appeals Rejected
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The Supreme court yesterday denied petitions for rehearing submitted by John W. Roxborough, former manager of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, and Everett I. Watson, who were convicted in Detroit of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

PIPA IS 'FIND'
Andy Pipa, Penn State's freshman "find," quarterbacked the Kutztown High School football team last fall.

NAVY Strong Team
Army's toughest foe of all admittedly is yet to come, the same being that Navy eleven which is liberally spiced with veterans and bolstered with what may yet prove to be the greatest line of the year. This moot point will be settled when the Army begins shooting at it in the season finale for the service teams at Annapolis on Dec. 2. In the meantime, Navy will meet Purdue next Saturday while Army is engaging Penn.

Fittingly in keeping with the times, the absolute farthest peak of interest for this football season will be reached in that Army-Navy game, this particular form of hysteria having been arranged by the defeats plastered on Notre Dame by the two teams. While Navy has been eliminated from general top flight consideration by virtue of losses to North Carolina pre-flight and Georgia Tech, the Middles have found themselves in their last two games to blast the Irish by 32 to 13 and Cornell last Saturday, by 48 to 0.

Toss Records Away
On the records, Navy needn't be feared by Army, but this seems to be a case where you can throw the records away and forget them. The pent-up power of the Middles somehow was late in being put on display, but they have got it now and will be favored to get past Purdue safely and into the Army game with all guns popping.

These aforementioned guns include Bob Jenkins and Clyde Scott tearing in out of single wings behind that extremely good line of recent games, and Army's won't

Two Hundred Americans Waged Warfare In Greece

Conducted 'Northwest Territory' War Against Germans For Past 16 Months

By LARRY NEWMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ATHENS, Greece. — (Delayed) — More than 200 American officers, many of them of Greek parentage, have waged a "northwest territory" war against the Germans for the last 16 months in the mountains of Northern Greece. Though their identity must still be secret, these "Cloak and Dagger" boys tell some of the greatest stories of the war.

Every man a volunteer for tasks equally those of the men of Bataan and Corregidor, these specially trained fighters killed Germans with everything from mortars to piano wire and blew up every type of Nazi installation from bridges to barracks.

One of these super-commandos, a 26-year old captain from Waco, Texas, told a half-raising story of 13 months in the Central Grecian mountains where he directed a band of Greek guerrillas in making life miserable and military operations expensive for the invading Nazis.

Old Indian Methods

The captain explained that he adopted old Indian fighting methods to modern weapons of warfare and "things panned out pretty well."

"Our missions were somewhat informal and always very noisy because we had to scare hell out of the Germans first, then shoot things up, then run for home as fast as we could get there."

The biggest "show" which the Texas captain directed took place only a few days before the Germans finally pulled their troops from the Corinth Isthmus.

"The Jerries had about 500 men in a small town preparing bridge and railroad demolitions," the captain related. "We had about 120 men, including several British commandos who were a lot more experienced in this type of work than us. We had a long argument about attacking the Germans but finally decided it had to be done."

"We decided on an encircling attack at midnight with only a half moon for light. The encirclement gave us about one man every 50 or 60 yards—which is pretty thin. We rounded up every Greek kid in the area who could beat a tin can or just yell loud."

Germans Disorganized

"At midnight, the kids began raising all kinds of racket and we began shooting. The Germans were completely disorganized. After about 45 minutes fighting, we had killed 165 of them, captured 122 while losing only two men killed and 13 wounded."

"The remaining Germans fled from the town, but returned with reinforcements the next day and burned the village to the ground and took fifty hostages."

"Those were the tough decisions to make in all our work—whether the work accomplished was worth the suffering of the Greek villages. But always the guerrillas would go into the town before and talk with the village leaders and never did the Greeks ask us not to attack the Germans."

"In this particular job we saved two road bridges and a railroad bridge, so I guess it was worthwhile. And the Greeks turned out en masse to see the burial of the 165 dead Germans and the parade of the 122 prisoners."

Headquarters for the scattered units were caves and German raiding parties kept them constantly on the move. Because of their limited supplies and men, the groups never went out for a pitched battle with the German forces but contented themselves with sniping stragglers and harrying motor convoys.
